THOUSAND PEOPLE MEET AT PEACE CONFERENCE

Notable Utterances of President Taft and Secretary Dickson: Eminent Men Present

CHICAGO, May 3.—More than a thousand delegates and visitors attended the opening of the second National Peace Conference here today. The sessions will continue until Wednesday night.

The reading of a letter from President Taft, in which he expressed regret at being unable to attend, and his approval of its aim, was one of the features of today's session.

Robert Treat Payne of Boston, presided. After the opening, Secretary of War Dickinson delivered the first address. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Governor Deneen and Mayor Busse, then President Taft's letter was read. Dean W. Rogers, of the Cincinnati Law School, was called upon for an address.

Tonight's speakers will be Samuel Gompers and David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University.

President Taft's Letter
President Taft's letter, in part, to the National Peace Conference in session in Chicago, is as follows:

My Dear Sirs: I greatly regret being unable to attend the coming National Peace Congress at Chicago, there to express my earnest sympathy with the objects of the assembling of so many distinguished men in the interest of the world's peace. It is true that armaments will go on increasing in cost, but it is also true that the burdens presented by competition in armament are growing heavier, and the problems for their solution more difficult.

The possibilities of war now arising come chiefly from irresponsibilities of government in those countries where stability of internal control is lacking. The United States has done much to cause peace by assisting those countries weak in this respect to their internal government, so as to strengthen them in the cause of law and order. That the policy of the United States is in avoiding war under all circumstances excepting those plainly consistent with honor, or its highest welfare, has been made so clear to the world as to hardly need any statement at my hands. W. H. TAFT.

SECRETARY OF WAR DICKINSON'S ADDRESS

Secretary of War Dickinson read an address which was, in part:

"By far most notable event in the history of the world bearing on international peace was the first Hague peace conference. The signatory powers agreed to use their best efforts to insure a pacific settlement of international differences in the case of disagreement, before an appeal to arms, by recourse to the good offices of other friendly powers. Sixteen powers signed the agreement.

"The second Hague conference resulted in the modifications of means for collecting debts from smaller powers. No events have transpired in history which surpass the effects of these peace conferences. International law has been respected and its standard has been raised. The greatest factor for the maintenance of peace is the habit of thought about peace which now prevails throughout the civilized world. He who would now provoke war must now stand before the bar of judgment. No man in this nation will rashly incur its condemnation.

"We may not be able to limit what would justify war, but we know that many causes which caused war in the past now meet with condemnation. There can be no disarmament until governments agree upon a system of concurrent action. The tide of public sentiment throughout the world is setting strongly in this direction. Nations may act independently of their sovereign capacity, but greater humanitarian principles are advanced by the co-operation of individuals working independently of governments, and in this enlightened age they are universal in their progress."

MRS. SHAW SAYS "NO RECONCILIATION"

Denies Emphatically That She Will Return to Her Millionaire Spouse

SANTA BARBARA, May 3.—"You may rest assured that whatever happens, I will never return to Mr. Shaw, all rumors and gossip concerning a reconciliation to the contrary," declared Mrs. Nettie E. Shaw today as she sat contentedly chewing gum in the ticket window of the La Petite theater.

Despite a warning from her attorney, Mrs. Shaw broke her silence long enough to deny emphatically that a reconciliation with James E. Shaw, who is a millionaire street railway man of Boston, and also state senator. There may be a compromise over the custody of the child, Eldridge, who was seized by Shaw's agents last Friday. It is believed the entire matter will be held in abeyance until the woman's father, H. F. Eldridge, the millionaire brewer of Portsmouth, N. H., arrives, which will be in the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Shaw's statement is at direct variance with that of the morning papers that predict reconciliation.

A SUGGESTION WORTH A MILLION DOLLARS WHICH COSTS NOTHING

How Can We People California? Asks the heading of an article by Elmer Ellsworth Carey in The California Weekly.

Without stopping to read the article we can answer, Tell everybody in the United States the TRUTH about California.

How can we do that? Easily. Let every man and woman in the state, who has sufficient education to do so intelligently, write four letters each year to his or her home paper, describing scenes, climatic conditions, crops, markets, hunting, fishing, social activities, outings, etc.

Then let every man and woman in California who is able to do so subscribe for his or her home paper to be mailed regularly for one year to some friend or relative in the east.

If this plan were carried out for one year it would do more good than all the millions of dollars spent in advertising during the past ten years.

WANTS WORDS AND NO SIGNS

Judge West Expresses Disapproval of Method of Forestalling Witness Stand

Instructs Those Present Not to Interfere With Regular Course

Judge West has a notion that a person on the witness stand has a sort of right to tell his story without high signs, signs of disapproval, signs of assent or any other kind of signs from any person in the courtroom, and when he is trying a case it would seem that the judge would just as soon that any person who has a story to tell would wait until it can be told from the witness stand.

The judge made known his decided opinion upon the above matters this morning during the trial of the suit of George Martin against Ella L. Martin. Martin is suing his former wife for a half interest in property that stands in Mrs. Martin's name. While Martin was testifying today he made a statement relative to the case. It just so happened that at that second Mrs. Martin caught the judge's eye. Immediately Mrs. Martin's head moved in that manner known to be a sign of denial.

The judge stopped proceedings on the spot, and gave instructions to all witnesses and to all persons interested in the case that they must not in any manner whatever attempt to convey any idea to the court otherwise than through the usual course, via the witness and attorney.

Martin has been on the stand all day. He claimed to have property worth $2500 when he, an old bachelor, married Mrs. Martin, he being her third husband. The property was traded for property at Garden Grove. In 1903 Mrs. Martin secured her divorce. Martin claims she consented to give him a deed to a half interest in the property, but that she has never done so. After direct examination of Martin by Attorney R. Y. Williams, Attorney H. C. Head, for Mrs. Martin, took up the cross-examination.

BEANS SOAKED WANTS DAMAGE

Cross Complaint Filed Today in Action for Payment on Gas Engine

Mission Valley Rancher States That Engine Was Inadequate to His Needs

In an answer and cross-complaint filed today, W. A. Zimmerman of San Juan Capistrano, presented his side of the matter on which suit against him was brought by the F. L. Stearns Gas Engine Co. The Stearns Co. asks for $600 claimed as due for a gasoline engine. Zimmerman denies that the contract that he had with the Stearns Co. makes the payment due, and by way of cross-complaint he asks that the court award him $500 damages as the result of the failure of the engine to do the work that he had intended it for.

Zimmerman states that he explained to the company from which he got the engine that he wanted it to run a bean separator, that he wanted an engine that would do the work. The engine was received and put in operation. It proved inadequate and went to pieces. The result was that the beans were not threshed in time and were wet by rain. The damage done the crop was $500. Zimmerman asks that he be given $50 that he paid on the engine when it was delivered to him. He is represented in the action by Attorney E. E. Keech.

COMMODITIES CLAUSE IS CONSTITUTIONAL

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The commodities clause of the Hepburn rate act was declared to be constitutional in a decision handed down by the United States supreme court this afternoon.

This clause is intended to limit transportation companies to that business exclusively.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The decision, which was read by Justice White, permits railroads like the Pennsylvania and Reading, owning stock in coal producing companies, to haul in interstate commerce the coal produced. Such roads as the Delaware and Lackawanna, actually owning and operating coal mines, are prohibited from hauling coal in interstate commerce.

The decision says that the commodities clause, when all its provisions are harmoniously construed, has solely for its object the prevention of carriers engaged in interstate commerce, from being operated in the interest, at the time of transportation, of the commodities transported. The decision further states that the exemption of timber and its manufactured products, it not repugnant to the constitution. Justice Harlan dissented to this latter construction but assented to the findings and the court's decision is unanimous.

The decision is against railroads having ownership in coal mines. These roads have to dispose of their holdings, but mere holding stock in coal companies is not in contravention of the law.

REWARD FOR AUTO THIEF

Club to Pay $75 on Final Determination of Clyde Taylor Grand Larceny Case

The Santa Ana Automobile Club has decided to give a $75 reward for the conviction of Clyde Taylor for stealing Judge Townner's automobile some weeks ago. Taylor has been arrested, a jury found him guilty and Judge West sentenced him to three years in San Quentin. Attorney Ames is appealing the case, and the reward will be withheld until a final determination of the case, but will be ready for the officers the instant the courts are finished with it, should Taylor be declared convicted.

The fact that this reward has been offered shows the policy of the automobile club to assist in the protecting of automobiles.

Constable Jackson arrested Taylor. Policemen Murray and Boynton assisted in the investigation. The automobile was taken from Judge Townner's garage, was rolled by hand three blocks to Perry Taylor's house, where Clyde Taylor was living, and there abandoned because the man or men who took it had no crank with which to start it.

LOCAL TEAM WON 4 TO 0

Coleman Put up a Good Game From Twirler's Box—How Hitting Went

One of the best games that has ever been seen on the local grounds was played Sunday afternoon when the Yellow Sox defeated the Edison wire-strings of Los Angeles 4 to 0. The local boys gave the visitors a first class white wash. The Electricians having one of the prettiest looking rows of goose eggs ever presented to a visiting team, on the local grounds.

Coleman pitching for the Yellow Sox was in great form pitching one of the best games of his career. Of the eight hits secured off his delivery there was only three that were of the clean variety. The big fellow gave the visitors an awful shock as he sent just an even dozen back to the bench by the strike-out route and gave one a free pass to the initial sack.

A. Stohl, the visiting heaver, was found safely for eight swats which were bunched at opportune times.

The features of the game were the running catch made by Short-stop E. E. Coe for the visitors in the fifth inning, and a one-handed stab of Wagner's long fly by Centerfielder Page of the wire strings in the sixth. Brown smashed the ball to a deep left for three bags in the eighth but was called by Umpire DeVine for not touching the base.

Locals Score Two
The locals started things with a rush, Patterson, the first man up for the locals, was safe on an infield hit and went to second on a wild pitch and advanced to third on Slaback's single to right field, Meats hit to Wilson who juggled the ball, catching Meats at first, Patterson scoring on the out. Wagner, a new man with the Yellow Sox, put a hot one down the third base line for a single, Slaback scoring from second. That was the end of the scoring for the locals until the sixth when they broke out on another rampage.

In the sixth Slaback opened with a two-bagger against the center field fence, Meats sacrificed him a peg, Slaback landing on station C, Wagner again comes to the rescue with a long fly to center field, Slaback scoring on the throw in.

In the seventh the locals shoved another man across the plate. Cobb, the first man was out A. Stohl to Wilkinson, Angle singled to left field and was forced out at second by Coleman, Patterson walked, Coleman and Patterson worked the double steal. Stohl was getting anxious about this time and heaved the ball to the grand stand, allowing Coleman to score from third.

ORANGE TO DECIDE ON THEIR SITE

Walnut Growers of Orange Expect to Elect New Secretary Tomorrow

There will be a meeting tomorrow of the board of directors of the Richmond Walnut Growers Association, the meeting to be held in the Orange association packing house. Two important matters are to come before the board. The different offers that have been made the new walnut growers association will be presented and the one that meets the approval will be selected and a packing-house built upon it, should it be determined to build instead of accepting any offer that might be made for leasing or sale of a building already up.

The second matter of importance to be considered will be the election of a secretary of the association. Mr. Munhall, who has been acting as secretary since the formation of the association a few months ago, has not the time to attend to the duties of the office, having accepted it until matters should be in shape for electing a permanent secretary.

FEMININE RAGE IN SIGHT

Now that the legislative guns have been trained on the merry-widow hat, it will be interesting to watch developments. A bill has been introduced into the Illinois legislature limiting the width, breadth and lateral extent of all head-gear to a paltry eighteen inches. Grave questions are liable to arise at this point, and one of these questions regards the subject of vested rights. For instance, if, when the bill becomes a law, a lady has already acquired a hat that is 36 inches in extent, from tip to tip, so to speak, is she obliged to forego the glory of tripping down the sidewalk under her favorite decoration with its ribbons gaily fluttering in the breeze just because some mere men object in the form of an alleged law? It is her hat and she had it before any such law was thought of. But this is a question for the lawyers, and will not cut as much figure as the fact that the original promoters of the merry-widow hat have at last come out against it, probably because they have some other freak they want now to dispose of, and so its days are numbered, not because of statute laws, but those of fashion.

WE SHOULD BE THANKFUL

How is it that we seem to be so sensitive to the inconvenience of life and so oblivious to its conveniences? Answer that, ye carping, growling soreheads who are eternally magnifying life's afflictions and minimizing its pleasures. Here we are safe and sound with plenty to eat and wear and with a climate that ought to make a saint out of the chief of sinners. But look abroad, and you need not go to bleeding Turkey, oppressed Russia, nor to any other down-trodden and turbulent people of the earth. Just read the dispatches from the east. Cyclones, hurricanes, cloud-bursts, hail and in one place snow ten inches deep are specimens given of April weather. Hundreds are killed and maimed and the destruction of property and crops runs into the millions of dollars.

It is hard for us to realize these things—they must be experienced to be appreciated. One born and raised in this climate cannot even imagine what they mean, and those of us who have been absent from there for a time have lost the habit of thought that goes with eastern weather. Although we know of the existence of such conditions, we have the California feeling, so to speak, which is one of absolute security from climatic outbreaks.

On the other side of the Rocky mountains, nature is unfriendly to man. It is an enemy with which he must contend from January to January. He never knows what may happen and is in constant dread of the worst. It is not so here, for within certain small limits of variation, we are assured of our weather. It has its little moods which we are apt to unduly magnify, but to every one of ordinary sense and discretion, it is friendly and agreeable the year around. Southern California climate, or perhaps it would be better to say climates, are particularly hospitable, for when we feel a little uncomfortable or dissatisfied in any way with the climate of our immediate neighborhood, a ride of an hour or two will take us out of it into another.

And what more could one ask in this life? We have the conditions that make for happiness and if we fall short of it here it is enough to make the cold chills creep up one's spine to imagine what our condition might be in the midst of the scenes described in the dispatches above mentioned. But there are a few people even in this model locality who love to be miserable just for the pleasure of afflicting their misery on someone else. But don't let them do it—smile to get even with them.

HER HAT

"Yes I brought back the hat," said the woman in the golden-brown coat to the saleswoman. "I thought I was going to get a green suit, but I went and got a brown stripe. I always do get the very color I never dreamed of getting. Yes, I know you don't like to take back hats, but you just ask that girl to see about it, and I'll try on some others while I am waiting for my credit slip."

"What kind shall I show you, madam?" asked the saleswoman.

"Let's see the one with the fluffy feathers. Mercy, no! I mean the one in the showcase to the right. That just seems to suit me, doesn't it? If I took this one would you take off half the feathers and snuggle one of those pink roses in there? Oh, they don't? How much is it as it stands? Six dollars? Oh Shty? Well, I don't like it much, anyway."

"Show me that lavender one. Yes, the one that woman has on. It makes her look awfully old. Excuse me, madam; will you let me take that lavender hat now? You've had it so long. Oh, you've bought it? Goodness, didn't she act mad? I wonder if she could have heard what I said about her looking old?"

"How would that hat do?" asked the saleswoman.

"I don't like that one," said the customer. "It looks like the picture in the front of the cook book. You know, the ones that show how to serve roast beef garnished, on a round platter. That bright red one would set off my eyes. I've always worn red and pink so much, Mrs. Turner, who lives next door, has a beautiful pink hat with white roses. You haven't any like that, have you? No, that one won't do."

"There! That woman's gone and left the lavender hat. Just let me put it on for a second. Yes, I know she bought it. There, I knew it would be perfectly sweet on me. It's lots more becoming to me than it was to her, as I knew it would be. The idea of a woman with such a complexion buying a lavender hat! I suppose some women are so flattered at the compliments of the saleswomen their heads are turned and they buy anything. If you can find another like it I'll take it myself."

"Oh, there isn't another. Well, see if you can trim one for me before this is gone."

"Don't take it away, young woman; I'm ordering another. She can't be in any hurry; she didn't act as if she was. She's coming back? Oh, well, all right, but I think you're very wrong to sell a customer an unbecoming hat, and, besides I wanted it myself."

"I'll have to take the pink and white one, I suppose," lamented the customer, "though it looks so much like a charlotte russe. Gracious! What makes it so expensive? Well, I suppose plumes do count up. I'll have two of the plumes taken off. There's the girl with my credit slip."

"Why, she's bringing back the hat, too! What? They won't let me return it? Well, I'd like to know why not! Goodness, I did not wear it. Well, not more than twice—once to Mrs. Turner's tea and once to the theater. That didn't hurt it a bit. No I don't want another if you won't take this one back. It's a lesson to me never to trade in a store that's so dreadfully unaccommodating."—Los Angeles Examiner.

Richard Jose

The lover of artistic music, both vocal and instrumental, will doubtless be pleased to learn of the forthcoming appearance of Richard J. Jose and his company at the Grand.

Mr. Jose is still conceded the greatest contra-tenor of the music world and at singing the old songs, is without a peer. His voice retains all its marvelous quality and flexibility and the auditors are still enraptured with the beauty and purity of his upper register.

The delight of the evening will be the presentation of that screaming farce "Jane," than which no greater laugh-maker has ever been written. It is being given by a specially selected cast of players who have been under the direction of Fred J. Butler of the Alcazar, San Francisco. Already there is a marked interest being manifested and Mr. Jose will doubtless repeat the excellent business accorded his last year.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT THE REO AT SOMONAU, ILL.

What is Wanted of an Automobile.

"During the six years that I have been engaged in the automobile business I have thoroughly investigated several makes with the view of learning what kind would render the greatest amount of service for the money invested. While there are many good autos on the market, I have yet to find one that will give as good service for the money as the reliable Reo. Having operated a Reo myself in all kinds of weather and over all kinds of roads, I speak from personal experience when I say that the Reo always takes its passengers to their journey's end any day in the year, over any kind of roads as many miles as they want to go, as far as they ought to go and with the greatest comfort and safety." Following that pleasant experience,

Mrs. Tubbs and her son will return to Iowa for a weeks visit. They will reach here about the last of June.

Box Social

The drill team of the Fraternal Aid Association will give a box social after the regular lodge business meeting on next Wednesday night, to which all members and friends are invited. Each lady is expected to take a box of refreshments, and a handsome prize will be given for the best and most daintily arranged.

The drill team will give an exhibition drill and an informal dance will close the evening.

Class Graduation

The graduation exercises of the Teachers' Training class that has been under direction of Rev. Cronenberger for some time past, were held at the Christian church last night.

The platform was prettily decorated in pink and green, the class colors, pink geraniums being united with green ferns in a decorative scheme. Special music by the choir, a vocal solo by Miss Helen Marrs and a cornet solo by Paul Cronenberger, were part of the program. Diplomas were given to the following persons, after a demonstration of work by the class, led by Mr. Cronenberger:

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Burkett, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Brisen-dine, Mr. and Mrs. John Frye, Mrs. A. G. Lucas, Mrs. F. B. Taylor, Merle Frye, Mrs. Geo. Daggar, Mrs. Blew, W. T. Mitchell, Mrs. Chas. Wolfe, R. L. Freeman.

The class will continue its organization for social and study purposes. In the near future there will be a class reunion.

Rebakhahs Were Entertained

On Saturday last the Veteran Rebakhahs of Santa Ana and Tustin were entertained beautifully at the Los Angeles home of Mrs. W. A. McCombs, Hobart boulevard, who opened her lovely new bungalow to greet her friends. About eight Los Angeles people were invited to meet the Santa Ana ladies.

Roses and smilax were used profusely in the parlors, and sweet peas shed their fragrance in the dining room. An elegant five course lunch-oon was served at 1 o'clock, and the afternoon was spent cosily in conversation. Before the guests departed they gave Mrs. McCombs a rousing vote of thanks for her hospitality and hoped that it might be repeated at an early day. A lovely bouquet of rose buds was presented to Mrs. McCombs by a Santa Ana friend.

Memorial Day

The committee of the G. A. R. organizations of this city met at the G. A. R. Hall last Saturday and arranged for the appropriate observance of the day, and as Memorial Day, May 30, falls this year on Sunday, they arranged for the memorial sermon to be preached on the afternoon of that day and Monday the 31st to be observed as Memorial or Decoration Day. A full program will be published later.

Garden Party Date

There has been no change in the date of the big garden party to be given on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Burnham, for the Children's Orphan Home. The original date as announced in the first notice, May 11, is the only date that has been considered.

The merchants of Santa Ana have generously contributed the music for the eagerly anticipated event, and many other kindnesses are being shown, so that the affair is sure to be an unqualified success.

The hostesses of the garden party, in addition to Mrs. J. R. Porter, are Mesdames Wm. H. Burnham, Jas. S. Rice, Ralph Burnham, R. R. Reynolds, H. D. Connell, Bert Klunk, J. D. Thomas, Viola Ballard, H. T. Rutherford, John W. Tubbs, F. P. Nickey, Roscoe Whitted, Ben Turner, Miss Boyd, Miss Preble.

Mr. Chas. Mayor and his daughter, Mrs. Joe Tabor, of Elko, Nev., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McDowell yesterday.

A Birthday Party

A charming little party was given on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. W. L. Duggan at her home on South Sycamore, in honor of her little daughter, Clara, who has attained the dignity of nine years of age. The day was pleasant and the little ones enjoyed the games on the lawn, as well as some indoor attractions, including an animal cookie hunt, and some very nice selections on the piano, played by the little hostess and some of her small guests.

It is needless to say that the refreshments of ice cream and cake were fully appreciated. Those present were Elsa Rueter, Corrine Skiles, Helen and Dorothy Hull, Gladys Burns, Lillian Fischer, Dorothy Applegate, Orpha Holbrook, Clara and Dorothy Duggan.

A Romantic Wedding

Among the social events of last week that deserved more than passing mention, was the wedding of Miss Hattie May Woodward of Muskogee, Oklahoma, and Connell W. Porter, of Oakland. The marriage as briefly noticed last week, was the outcome of a pretty love affair that was apparently brought to an unkind end about three years ago, when the two young people postponed their nearby wedding on account of the death of the young lady's father. It was still further deferred in compliance with the wishes of the mother, who in her loneliness wished to keep her precious daughter at her side.

So time rolled on and the young couple seemed parted indefinitely. Unable to live in the same town with the lady of his affections and feel that they were "so near and yet so far" apart, Mr. Porter came to sunny California and both perhaps endeavored to forget. But persistent cupid bided his time and when, in the course of events, Miss Woodward came to Southern California, he quickly winged a shaft of information to the lonely lover in the north, who speeded to this fair Southland determined to win or die in the attempt to wed the girl of his heart. After an exciting week, in which Miss Woodward unconsciously led her to-be-bridegroom on a round-about chase from city to city, he found her at Alhambra, and within a few brief days his faithful persistence was rewarded and they were married in Santa Ana in the home of her uncle, Rev. W. R. Thornton, he performing the marriage ceremony.

At Miss Woodward's request, her mother, Mrs. Woodward, stood at her side. There were present besides, the groom's brothers, Lee and Frank Porter, of Los Angeles; an uncle, Mr. Connell of the same city; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crundall of Alhambra, uncle and aunt of the bride; Mrs. McCarthy, grandmother of the bride, Rev. Thornton's family and Mrs. Kate Felton, a close friend.

The handsome bride, who is a young girl of the highest social standing in Muskogee, where she was a favorite with old and young, was attired in pale blue silk made decollete and en traine. She carried an armful of beautiful bride roses. Her going away costume was a handsome one of brown, with gloves and hat to match.

VANDERMAST & SON

Mr. and Mrs. Porter will reside in Oakland where Mr. Porter is successfully engaged in business. So the deferred romance ends happily after all, in Sunny California.

The Baby Show

Babies to the right of you, babies to the left of you, babies in front of you and babies behind you. Babies everywhere. Blue-eyed babies, brown-eyed, big babies, little babies, never did you see so many sweet and pretty babies as were the guests of the Amphion Circle at the baby show last Saturday afternoon.

Spurgeon's Hall was prettily decorated with flowers and ferns and artistic booths in charge of winsome maids and matrons in white.

Of the program both afternoon and evening it is only necessary to say that they were carried out delightfully. The crowning of the May Queen, Little Lorraine Parr, was the climax of the whole entertainment, but everything was good. The floral drill, the May pole dance and the flag drill were very pretty and all the little tots did well in their songs and recitations.

Mesdames A. J. Crookshank, F. P. Nickey, Ed Lee, and Miss Lida Crookshank were in charge of the baby clothes booth, Mrs. E. B. Trago, Misses Jeanette Rowell, Jennie Humphrey and Marie Martin looked after the candy booth, and Mrs. A. E. Chapman with a band of helpers had charge of the ice cream and cake booth.

The baby show committee wishes to thank all who contributed to the success of the entertainment, including the Amphion Circle, the Ladies' Aid Society and the boys and girls who practiced so faithfully and did so well. The total receipts were almost $175, with a net gain of probably $135.

The following is almost a complete list of the babies that were in the reception in Fraternal Brotherhood Hall, of which Mrs. Nealley and Mrs. Seecombe were in charge:

Dorothy Howe, Phillip Keith Beisel, Evelyn Trickey, Veda Irene Mitchell, Ira A. Owens, Gordon Baker, Martha Ellen Baird, Ruth Arlene Webster, Willis M. Fields, Harvey Bear, Virginia May Lowell, Dorothy Grant, Trescott Lindsay, Willis Sher-rill, Phyllis Elizabeth Trickey, Harold Eugene Chapman, Russel Karl Tib-bets, Merritt L. Third Story at Factory Got Off With Few Bruises

Thomas V. Davis, a workman on the new sugar factory building on South Main street, dropped through the air yesterday about noon without parachute or flying machine support. He was at work on the third story of the structure when he missed his footing and fell a distance of twenty-five feet to the ground. No bones were broken and there seems to have been no internal injuries. Mr. Davis suffered severe bruises of one arm and one hip. He lives at 768 Cypress avenue.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only

THE NEW PRIMARY LAW SHUTS WOMEN OUT FROM HOLDING OFFICE

It appears that the incoming tide of reform in election laws has swept out of office all women holding elective positions under the county government act. The prohibition in the new Wright direct primary law is concealed in a paragraph declaring that a candidate for office must file with his nomination papers his affidavit stating, among other things, that he is a qualified elector in the election precinct in which he lives. A woman is not a qualified elector and therefore she can not run for office.

This clause in the law is taken to mean not only that none of the twenty-three women now holding office as county superintendent of schools will be qualified to become candidates to succeed themselves, but also that it is the death knell to the ambitions of any other women who may be cherishing a hope of becoming a public servant in such a capacity at any time in the future. And so, while we have been endeavoring to legislate all unworthy men out of political life, we have achieved that to which we not aspiring, namely, disqualified worthy women from holding an office to which they are well adapted.—River-side Enterprise.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

NO THANKS TO HIM.

When it is not enough to roast
A monkey made of brass,
When pavement dull reflect the sun
As might a looking glass,
We wonder who invented clothes
And if it was the case
That the inventor had it in
For all the human race.

In winter when it's ten below
The chilly zero line
A forty dollar overcoat
We hardly would decline,
But in the good old summer time,
When strong ambition lags,
Why do we have to drag about
So many worthless rags?

Did Custom, arbitrary dame,
Not hold us in her grip?
Not make us kowtow day and night
And have us on the hip?
We might perhaps use common sense
In wrapping up our shape
And dress more like our ancestor,
One Mr. Fewclothes Ape.

At times we get the faintest hint
Of what the wise might do
If they could throw Dame Fashion down
And dress in peakaboo.
We'd give to persons less advanced
A few electric shocks
And dress ourselves in comfort if
We had to pawn our socks.

Some Other
Time.
"Do you use

"Not so early in the day, thank you."

Judged by a Name.
"Doctor, can't you do something for me? I have been sick for some time."
"What are your symptoms?"
"I have a constant pain in my liver, placing his hand over his ample vest to designate the spot."
"That isn't your liver, man; that's your stomach."
"I thought it must be my liver, because that is where I live."

The Common Spot.
"I have old Moneybags where I can do what I please with him."
"Learn one of the secrets of his early life?"
"Not as coarse as that."
"Hypnotism?"
"Much simpler."
"What is the recipe?"
"Asked him to be the end man in an amateur minstrel show."

Didn't Mind Suspense.
"Oh, really, Mr. Hotspur, this is so sudden!" exclaimed the shy young creature who had been expecting it for three months. "I couldn't possibly answer you tonight. You must give me time to consider."
"All right," said the young man gayly. "Just so you let me know right now what the answer will be after you have thought it over."

Looked Ahead.
"The man who first said there is room for one more was a prophet."
"Who was he?"
"I don't happen to know."
"Then how do you know what he was?"
"He said it before street cars were invented, didn't he?"

REALTY AGENT TAX TO BE TAKEN UP AT A MEETING TONIGHT

A COMMON ERROR

The Same Mistake is Made by Many Santa Ana People

—It's a common error
To plaster the aching back,
To rub with liniments rheumatic joints,
When the trouble comes from the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills,
And are endorsed by Santa Ana citizens.

Mrs. W. J. Bilson, 602 East Fifth St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I suffered from backache, the result of imperfect action of the kidneys, from childhood. At times pains through my loins and kidneys would be more severe than at others and I have had attacks when I would scarcely be able to straighten. At other times there would be a dull heavy aching that would sap all my energy. I tried plasters and various remedies, and while some afforded slight relief, it was only of a temporary nature. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box at Tubbs & Co's drug store and their use proved so beneficial that I continued taking them and as a result received a complete cure shortly. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a most reliable remedy."

ASSESSORS TO BEGIN CANVASS TODAY

City Assessor Freeman and his field deputies have about completed their preparations for their assessment canvass, and the two deputies, T. W. Vestal and Frank Stennitt, will probably begin their canvass today.

Mr. Vestal who held the same position last year will cover the residence section, while Mr. Stennitt will make the assessments in the business section. Mr. Stennitt, while new to the work here, has had eight years experience in assessors offices in the East and is no doubt well qualified for the work. It is expected it will take from six weeks to two months to complete the canvass.

No radical changes will be made from previous valuations, but an effort will be made to effect certain adjustments so as to make valuations more equal.

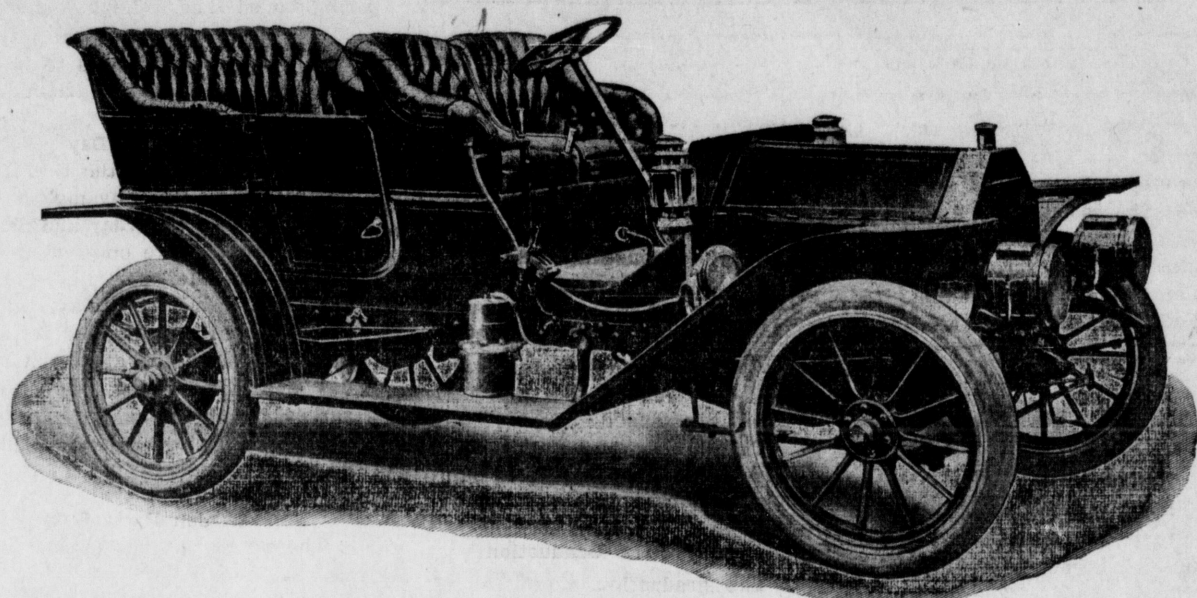

It is expected that the total assessed valuations will show a substantial increase over last year as there have been many improvements made by public utility corporations and also many new residence and business buildings erected.

MANY FLOCK TO VENICE TO HEAR ADMIRAL EVANS

VENICE, May 3.—Although the May fog hung low over the strand and a cool breeze was wafted from the west, "Admiral's Day" proved a drawing card. Many visitors came to the strand to see and greet Rear-Admiral Evans, the hero of the navy. They crowded the electric cars of the Los Angeles-Pacific company coming via Sawtelle, Hollywood and Palms. Automobiles from the city and elsewhere crowded the streets, as the people listened to the beloved Admiral's talk.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain in the stomach, "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, and "heart risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to it until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret medicine of known composition.

WOULD SYSTEMATIZE GARBAGE HAULING

The city trustees expect to put the hauling of garbage upon a systematic basis. At the present time there are some of the business houses, such as restaurants, that expect the city to haul away the garbage along with the trash. Others pay varying prices. The trustees may establish a garbage hauling wagon and arrange the fees.

STREAMS WERE LINED WITH MANY ANGLERS

There were about two anglers to every fish in the Santiago, Silverado, Trabuco and Hot Springs canyons Saturday and yesterday. At least that was the estimate put upon the anglers by some of their number.

Deputy State Fish Commissioner Morrison spent several days in the mountains previous to the opening on May 1, and reports that there were no "sooners" in sight. Everybody had a fair start Saturday morning. Nearly all of those who have returned report success. As a rule the fish were small and those that measured over nine inches were the exception.

George Spangler and Tom Hill, who were with a party in San Diego county, brought back one thirteen-inch trout and a dozen that went over eleven inches in length.

SECOND VISIT HERE TO STAY TEN DAYS

Russell Sholty, a boy of 16, after an absence from Santa Ana of about eighteen months, visited the town again Saturday night, coming as he did on his first trip, by brakebeam. In October, 1907, he was in jail here seven days. Saturday night Officer Hamilton found him hanging about the railroad yards, and arrested him. This afternoon Justice of the Peace Smithwick decided that ten days in jail would about suit Sholty's case.

"When I get out I'll go home and stay there," said the boy.

"That is the thing for you to do," said the judge. "The next time you come before me it will be six months for you."
